Purpose of the Excursion

The National Trust delivers and supports education and learning experiences that engage students with their history and heritage in order to instil a commitment to valuing heritage.

All programs support the Overarching Values of the Western Australian Curriculum Framework through one or more of the eight Learning Areas – especially Society & Environment.

Excursion content can be tailored to suit individual teacher's needs.

View our resources and programs on www.ntwa.com.au then contact the National Trust to discuss your needs.

Environment

No 1 Pump Station is at the base of Mundaring Weir. It is the first of eight pumping stations along the 560 km route of the Goldfields Water Supply Scheme to Kalgoorlie designed by CY O'Connor and opened by Sir John Forrest in 1903 and was previously known as the CY O'Connor Museum. The pipeline carries water from Mundaring to Kalgoorlie and is still in use today.

The precinct of No 1 Pump Station includes the original Pump Station, Mundaring Weir wall, Water Corporation's Operations building, the Upper and Lower Valve Houses and other operational buildings. There is a Learning Centre on site specifically designed for accommodating students.

The precinct is in a water catchment area and is governed by Water Corporation's rules and regulations.

There are toilets in the Learning Centre for emergency use only. Public toilets are located across the Helena River opposite No 1 Pump Station. Supervision is necessary for a visit to the toilets.

Transport
Student's Capacity
Visiting No 1 Pump Station gives students a connection with the historic, social, scientific and aesthetic heritage of Western Australia as well as issues of sustainability for the future. The site accommodates a maximum of 90 students at one time. Groups of approximately 30 students rotate through the precinct walking up to and across the Weir wall, touring No 1 Pump Station and discovering the history of the Goldfields Water Supply Scheme in the Learning Centre. There is wheelchair access to the Learning Centre, inside No 1 Pump Station and across the Weir wall. A typical excursion is a full school day event although a half day can be accommodated.
Supervisor/Supervisory Team
It is the responsibility of the school to develop a supervisory team that meets their specific requirements in line with the recommendations for supervision outlined in this document. The school supervisory team is asked to prepare students for an excursion to this venue using the briefing information provided within this document, and must accompany the students throughout the visit to actively monitor behaviour and intervene as necessary. National Trust Staff and volunteers will lead, demonstrate, perform and present activities but will not undertake any role(s) in a supervisory context. The National Trust advises school supervisory teams familiarise themselves with the site before bringing a group.
Involvement of External Providers
Clearances: National Trust staff and volunteers assisting with school visits hold a current Working with Children Check and cards can be shown if requested. Current Accreditations and Qualifications:

National Trust staff and volunteers working with children have teaching experience and/or are trained to deliver National Trust heritage education and learning programs.

Public Liability Insurance:

Insurer: RiskCover
Amount: $250 000 000

A copy of the certificate of currency is available upon request or may be downloaded from our website www.ntwa.com.au

Supervision Strategies

The development of appropriate supervision strategies is the responsibility of individual schools. The school supervisory team must accompany the students throughout the visit to actively monitor behaviour and intervene as necessary.

The recommended ratios may vary according to the needs of your students. Please advise if you have any students with special needs so we can attempt to maximize the benefit of their visit.

This venue has a maximum group size of 90 students and suggests school supervisory teams consist of:

- Yrs K – 3 1 adult to 5 students
- Yr 4 – 7 1 adult to 10 students
- Yr 8 – 12 1 adult to 15 students

National Trust Education staff and volunteers will lead, demonstrate, perform and present activities but will not undertake any role(s) in a supervisory context.

Identification of Excursion Participants

Identification of excursion participants is the responsibility of the school, however we require students and school supervisory team members to be easily identifiable for both supervision and education & learning activities with the National Trust.

Suggestions include name tags, uniform if appropriate for the activities, small group identification.

Communication Strategies

Communication strategies between students and school supervisory team are the responsibility of the school. Please ensure everyone recognises the communication strategies.

The National Trust encourages the school supervisory team to have access to a mobile phone that they can be contacted on, and can use to call out during their site visit. Please note the area may be out of range to some mobile phone providers.

Should the school need to contact their staff during an excursion they may do so by contacting No 1 Pump Station (emergencies only) on (08) 9295 2455 or National Trust Head Office on (08) 9321 6088.

Emergency Response Plan

Schools will have their own Emergency Response Plan pertaining to the particular needs of their students.

No 1 Pump Station precinct has a documented emergency response plan in place. The Emergency Response Plan can be downloaded from www.ntwa.com.au or is available on request.

The land for the walk up to and across the Weir wall is the responsibility of Water Corporation. The National Trust's RiskCover policy covers National Trust Education & Learning programs throughout the precinct including this walk.

In the event of a site emergency, school supervisory teams are required to follow the directions of National Trust staff or volunteers.

It is suggested that school staff have access to a list of names of participating students, contact telephone numbers, student medical information and relevant health information of supervisors. It is recommended that school staff carry a First Aid Kit with them during the excursion.

School supervisory teams are strongly recommended to meet identified supervision requirements to further support these procedures.

Briefing Students and Supervisors

Teachers are advised to brief the school supervisory team and students about standards of conduct, supervision strategies, and emergency response plans prior to their visit to National Trust sites.

At the beginning of each visit National Trust staff and/or volunteers will inform school supervisory staff and students of

- their responsibilities and obligations
- location of toilets
- rules for the visit
- emergency procedures
- the heritage value of the venue
