Environment

Old Farm Strawberry Hill is heritage listed and comprises a two storey farmhouse (which is not accessible to people in wheelchairs) and surrounding gardens.

The original Farm was built in 1830 and was the site of the first farm in Western Australia under constant cultivation. In 1835 Captain Sir Richard Spencer, the first Government Resident in Albany, his wife and nine children arrived at the settlement and took possession of Government Farm as it was then known. The Bird family purchased the property in 1889 and changed the name to 'The Old Farm'.

The Old Farm at Strawberry Hill was the first historic property in WA to be restored and opened to the public by the National Trust.

The building is small and can accommodate small groups only.

There are outside public toilets within the grounds.

School bags and larger items of personal property cannot be taken into the building. Items left in the grounds during the excursion are done so at students and visitors own risk.

Transport

Transport is the responsibility of the school.

There is a free car park for cars and buses in the grounds, entry off Middleton Road.

Student's Capacity

Visiting Old Farm Strawberry Hill gives students a connection with the historic, social and aesthetic heritage of Western Australia.

A visit allows students to investigate continuity and change over time. Albany is an important historic town on the south coast of Western Australia. It has numerous buildings of heritage significance.

The site can accommodate students of all ages from years 1 to 12. The grounds can accommodate up to 60 students at one time. Only the grounds are accessible for wheelchair access.

The house can accommodate up to 2 supervised groups of 10 students at one time (20 students in total). Students not involved in touring the house will need to remain outside in the grounds with additional members of the school supervisory team.

Supervisor/Supervisory Team

It is the responsibility of the school to develop a supervisory team that meets their specific requirements in line with the recommendations for supervision outlined in this document.

The school supervisory team is asked to prepare students for an excursion to this venue using the briefing information provided within this document, and must accompany the students throughout the visit to actively monitor behaviour and intervene as necessary.

National Trust Staff and volunteers will lead, demonstrate, perform and present activities but will not undertake any role(s) in a supervisory context.

The National Trust advises school supervisory teams familiarise themselves with the site before bringing a group.

The recommended ratios may vary according to the needs of your students. Please advise if you have any students with special needs so we can attempt to maximize the benefit of their visit.

This venue has a maximum group size of 90 students and suggests school supervisory teams consist of:

Identification of Excursion Participants

Identification of excursion participants is the responsibility of the school, however we require students and school supervisory team members to be easily identifiable for both supervision and education & learning activities with the National Trust.

Suggestions include name tags, uniform if appropriate for the activities, small group identification.

Communication Strategies

Communication strategies between students and school supervisory team are the responsibility of the school. Please ensure everyone recognises the communication strategies.

The National Trust encourages the school supervisory team to have access to a mobile phone that they can be contacted on, and can use to call out during their site visit. Please note the area may be out of range to some mobile phone providers.

Should the school need to contact their staff during an excursion they may do so by contacting Old Farm Strawberry Hill on (08) 9841 3735 or National Trust Head Office on (08) 9321 6088.

Emergency Response Plan

Schools will have their own Emergency Response Plan pertaining to the particular needs of their students.

Old Farm Strawberry Hill has an emergency response plan in place. The Emergency Response Plan can be downloaded from www.ntwa.com.au or is available on request.

In the event of a site emergency, school supervisory teams are required to follow the directions of National Trust staff or volunteers.

It is suggested that school staff have access to a list of names of participating students, contact telephone numbers, student medical information and relevant health information of supervisors. It is recommended that school staff carry a First Aid Kit with them during the excursion.

School supervisory teams are strongly recommended to meet identified supervision requirements to further support these procedures.

Briefing Students and Supervisors

Teachers are advised to brief the school supervisory team and students about standards of conduct, supervision strategies, and emergency response plans prior to their visit to National Trust sites.

At the beginning of each visit National Trust staff and/or volunteers will inform school supervisory staff and students of

- their responsibilities and obligations
- location of toilets
- rules for the visit
- emergency procedures
- the heritage value of the venue
