PHOTOCOPIABLE MASTER

Objectives of the Competition

Students use their narrative writing and photography skills to demonstrate how they value their heritage.

The aim of this competition is to engage students with their heritage and to encourage them to actively recognise its value for future Western Australians.

Students write about a place in their local environment and show, through narrative writing and original photography, that the place has heritage value to them. The place does not have to be heritage listed.

For the purposes of the competition, heritage is defined as:

"... something we have inherited from the past and something we value enough today to leave for future generations."
